Former Director of Sales Operations

June Homes

To Whom It May Concern,

I worked with Mihaela for several years at June Homes, having first met her when I joined the company as a Customer Success Manager. Mihaela was one of the people who helped me navigate the role and the organization during my early days, and as our responsibilities evolved, we went on to collaborate closely across a number of projects and initiatives.

What I always appreciated about Mihaela was her willingness to share what she knew and help others succeed. She was generous with her time and experience and could make complicated situations feel much more manageable. As we both progressed into leadership roles, I also came to value her as a colleague I could rely on to exchange ideas, solve problems and get things moving.

Mihaela combines a strong customer mindset with a very operational way of thinking. She naturally looks for gaps in a process, asks why something is not working and focuses on finding a practical solution. At the same time, she never loses sight of the people affected by those decisions, whether customers or colleagues.

June Homes was an extremely fast-moving environment, and Mihaela adapted to its changes remarkably well.

I am very happy to recommend Mihaela and believe she would be an asset to any organization looking for someone who combines leadership, initiative, operational thinking and genuine care for people.
